SYNOPSIS

Semifinalist for the City of Curitiba Literary Prize (Capivara Trophy) – Debut Writer Poetry

Human feelings meet the senses of nature in a dance that springs from the feminine interior. Within the Consciousness of Nature that Composes Me is a manifesto for the freedom of the body and the discovery of its power; it is an immersion into human interiority in a transcendental dialogue with natural elements; it is the voice of so many souls merging into the narrative of a vital system. The poetry, divided into the work's three essential phases—Coastal, Flora, and Natural—is woven from the concept that the feeling of nature connects with human feeling, where every movement of the universe unfolds from this harmony.
