SYNOPSIS

"Sufferers in Paradise" is a profound work that subverts the notion of an idyllic place by exploring the complex and painful realities that permeate human existence, divided into journeys reminiscent of purgatory and paradise. The book delves into a web of diverse narratives, unveiling the invisible scars—whether physical, emotional, or social—that shape its characters' lives. Through authentic voices, the work invites the reader to confront the raw truths of a "paradise" where pain is a constant, and resilience is tested to its limits in the face of adversities, abuse, and violence manifested in multiple forms.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Born in Mirassol, in the interior of São Paulo, in 1998, Miguel Castro has written three unpublished short story collections and graduated with a degree in Graphic Design in 2021. Constantly involved in artistic and aesthetic creation, he is currently studying Screenwriting at the Escola Britânica de Artes Criativas e Tecnologia (EBAC). "Padecedores no paraíso" is his literary debut.
