SYNOPSIS

Ellipses (...) is a reflection on life's continuities and processes, dealing mainly with the waiting periods and fulfillments to which we are subject and that we pursue in our daily lives.

The poems explore the pause within everyday speech, offering fresh perspectives on human relationships, romances, waiting, and encounters, allowing these meanings to be recognized and interpreted by the reader, and complemented by their own experiences.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

An architect and urban planner born in 1977 in Goiânia, Eliézer Bilemjian Ribeiro works in the fields of architecture, drawing, visual arts, photography, video, and poetry. He began his teaching career in 2003, finding in the tangle of everyday life the raw material for his texts, which he handwrites in a script only he can read.

In 2015, he published the book “Da Capa ao Fim”, winner of the 2013 Concurso Vertentes, with Editora UFG.
